1 Plaintiff Claire Petrun (“Plaintiff”) brings this action on behalf of herself and 2 all others similarly situated against SeaWorld (“Defendant”). Plaintiff makes the 3 following allegations pursuant to the investigation of her counsel and based upon 4 information and belief, except as to the allegations specifically pertaining to herself,
5 which are based on personal knowledge.

6 NATURE OF THE ACTION

7 1. This is a class action on behalf of all persons that purchased tickets from 8 Defendant United Parks & Resorts, Inc. for access to SeaWorld in San Diego, 9 California.

10 2. Defendant United Parks & Resorts, Inc. (“Defendant” or “SeaWorld”) is 11 a theme park company. It sells tickets to theme parks, including California theme
12 park SeaWorld. To sell these tickets, Defendant uses unfair and illegal tactics to trick 13 and manipulate consumers into purchasing tickets and paying more than they 14 otherwise would. These include using (1) fake sales, and (2) hidden fees.

15 3. For years, Defendant has overcharging customers on its website in 16 violation of the California Ticket Seller Law, California Business and Professions
17 Code section 22502.2, and California Civil Code § 1770.

18 4. Defendant also used hidden fees to sell its tickets. It advertised one 19 price, only to later disclose a higher, different price later in the checkout process.
20 Such fees are deceptive and unfair because it “interferes with consumers’ ability to 21 price-compare and manipulates them into paying fees that are either hidden entirely 22 or not presented until late in the transaction, after the consumer already has spent 23 significant time selecting and finalizing a product or service plan to purchase.”¹ This 24 is unfair, and illegal under California law.

25 5. Worse still, Defendant even though it initially tells consumers that a 26 sum certain will be charged it “Taxes & Fees,” it does not gives consumers a

27 ¹ Defendant appears to have changed its practice of hidden fees on or around July 1, 28 2024.

1 breakdown of how much is taxes and how much is fees. After a consumer clicks the 2 “Checkout” button, Defendant reveals no taxes were charged at all, and the entire 3 amount was Defendant’s Service Fee.

4 6. This all violates the California Ticket Seller Law, California Business
5 and Professions Code § 22502.2, which prohibits “represent[ing] that he or she can 6 deliver or cause to be delivered a ticket at a specific price or within a specific price 7 range and to fail to deliver within a reasonable time or by a contracted time the 8 tickets at or below the price stated or within the range of prices stated” and 9 California Civil Code § 1770(a)(9), which prohibits “[a]dvertising goods or 10 services... with intent not to sell them as advertised.” Mansfield v. StockX LLC, --- F.
11 Supp. 3d ----, 2025 WL 2811791, at *8 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 3, 2025).

12 7. Defendant’s practice of charging hidden fees a per se violation of 13 California’s Ticket Seller Law. Defendant’s other practice of hiding its fees in a 14 “taxes & fees” line-item is also independently a deceptive trade practice under the 15 CLRA, California Civil Code §§ (a)(9) and (a)(14), as other courts applying similar 16 consumer protection laws have held. See, e.g., Watson v. Crumbl LLC, 736 F. Supp.
17 3d 827, 842 (E.D. Cal. 2024); Gill v. Chipotle Mexican Grill, Inc., 2025 WL
18 1443767, at *4 (C.D. Cal. May 19, 2025); Carovillano v. Sirius XM Radio Inc., 715
19 F. Supp. 3d 562, 575 (S.D.N.Y. 2024).

20 8. For these reasons, Plaintiff seeks relief in this action individually, and 21 on behalf of all other ticket purchasers from Defendant’s website, 22 <https://seaworld.com/san-diego/>, for actual damages, reasonable attorneys’ costs and 23 fees, and injunctive relief under California Business and Professions Code §
24 22502.2, et seq., and California Civil Code § 1770.

25 PARTIES

26 9. Plaintiff Claire Petrun is an individual consumer who, at all times 27 material hereto, was a domiciliary of San Diego, California. Plaintiff purchased two 28 tickets to SeaWorld on or about October 7, 2023 through Defendant’s website,

1 <https://seaworld.com/san-diego/>. The transaction flow process she viewed on 2 Defendant's website was substantially similar to that as depicted in Figures 1
3 through 7 of this Complaint.

4 10. Defendant United Parks & Resorts, Inc. is a Delaware limited liability
5 company with its principal place of business in Orlando, Florida. Defendant owns 6 and operates SeaWorld in San Diego, California, as well as the website,
7 <https://seaworld.com/san-diego/>. Defendant is the owner of the SeaWorld, and not a 8 contractor for events in the venue.

9 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

10 11. This Court has jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 11 1332(d)(2)(A), as modified by the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005, because at 12 least one member of the Class, as defined below, is a citizen of a different state than 13 Defendant, there are more than 100 class members, and the aggregate amount in 14 controversy exceeds $5,000,000 exclusive of interest and costs.

15 12. Venue is proper in this District because Defendant does business in this 16 District, and a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claims
17 asserted herein occurred in this District.

18 13. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because the 19 wrongful conduct against Plaintiff occurred in this District.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

14. 15. When a person visits Defendant’s website, <https://seaworld.com/san-diego/>, on the main page, she can select the “Buy Tickets” button to begin the ticket purchase process. See Figure 1.

Figure 1

15. After a consumer selects the “Buy Tickets” button, she is taken to a screen where she can select the quantity of tickets she wishes to purchase. See

1 17. After the consumer clicks the “Checkout” button, she is presented with 2 the “Cart” page and her “Order Summary.” See Figure 5. On this page, for the first 3 time, Defendant displays a whopping $10.99 in “Taxes & Fees.” Id.

12
13
14 Figure 5

15 18. If the consumer hovers over the “i” information mark to inquire about the purpose 16 of the “Taxes & fees,” Defendant explains that the “Taxes & fees” “[c]overs taxes and 17 administrative processing costs.” Id. This language implies that some of “Taxes & fees”
18 are charged by the government. They are not.

19 19. Even worse, Defendant puts consumers on a shot-clock, requiring them
20 to make their purchase within twelve minutes. See Figure 6.

21
22

20. All the while putting consumers on a shot-clock to purchase quickly, Defendant quietly discloses that the additional $10.99 in “Taxes & Fees” is actually

1 all “Fees” and no “Taxes.” See Figure 7. Throughout the checkout process, 2 Defendant quotes consumers its fee under the misleading heading “Taxes & Fees” to 3 falsely pin the responsibility for these junk fees on the government. In reality, taxes
 4 are never a part of the equation.

9 Violations of California’s Ticket Sale Law:

10 21. Under California Business and Professions Code section 22502.2, it is:

11 unlawful for a ticket seller to represent that he or she can 12 deliver or cause to be delivered a ticket at a specific price or 13 within a specific price range and to fail to deliver within a 14 reasonable time or by a contracted time the tickets at or below the price stated. (emphasis added).

15 22. A “ticket seller” is defined as “any person who for compensation, 16 commission or otherwise sells admission tickets to sporting, musical, theatre, or any 17 other entertainment event.” Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 22503.

18 23. As described above, Defendant’s “sells admission tickets to [an] 19 entertainment event.” Accordingly, Defendant is a ticket seller.

20 24. Furthermore, Defendant represents its tickets at one price and 21 guarantees to hold the ticket at that price for ten minutes. However, as shown above,
 22 Defendant systematically fails to deliver on that promise and upcharges consumers 23 within the twelve-minute period.

24 CLASS ALLEGATIONS

25 25. Plaintiff seeks to represent a class defined as all individuals in the 26 United States who purchased event tickets from Defendant’s website,
 27 <https://seaworld.com/san-diego/>, during the applicable statute of limitations period
 28 (the “Class”). Excluded from the Class are governmental entities, Defendant,

1 Defendant's affiliates, parents, subsidiaries, employees, officers, directors, and co-
2 conspirators. Also excluded is any judicial officer presiding over this matter and the 3 members of their immediate families and judicial staff.

4 26. Numerosity. Members of the Class are so numerous that their 5 individual joinder herein is impracticable. On information and belief, members of 6 the Class number in the hundreds of thousands. The precise number of Class
7 members and their identities are unknown to Plaintiff at this time but may be 8 determined through discovery. Class members may be notified of the pendency of 9 this action by mail, email, and/or publication through the distribution records of 10 Defendant.

11 27. Commonality and Predominance. Common questions of law and fact
12 exist as to all Class members and predominate over questions affecting only 13 individual Class members. Common legal and factual questions include, but are not 14 limited to: (a) whether Defendant failed to disclose the total cost of the ticket, 15 including all ancillary fees, prior to the tickets being selected for purchase in 16 violation of California Business and Professions Code section 22502.2; (b) whether 17 the displayed price of Defendant's tickets increases during the purchase process in 18 violation of California Business and Professions Code section 22502.2; (c) whether 19 Defendant's marketing of the ticket prices was false and misleading; (d) whether 20 Defendant's conduct was fair and/or deceptive; and (e) whether Plaintiff and 21 members of the Class and Subclass have sustained damages with respect to the 22 common-law claims asserted, and if so, the proper measure of their damages.

23 28. Typicality. The claims of the named Plaintiff are typical of the claims
24 of the Class and Subclass in that the named Plaintiff and the members of the Class
25 and Subclass sustained damages because of Defendant's uniform wrongful conduct, 26 based upon Defendant failing to disclose the total cost of their tickets throughout the 27 online ticket purchase process.

1 to sporting, musical, theatre, or any other entertainment event” “for compensation
2 [or] commission.” Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 22503 (emphasis added).

3 34. Defendant violated California Business and Professions Code section 4 22502.2 by “represent[ing] that he or she can deliver or cause to be delivered a ticket
5 at a specific price or within a specific price range and to fail to deliver within a 6 reasonable time or by a contracted time the tickets at or below the price stated or 7 within the range of prices stated,” as discussed above. See ¶¶ 15, 17.

8 35. Plaintiff purchased tickets on Defendant’s website and was forced to 9 pay Defendant’s ancillary fee. Plaintiff was harmed by paying this extra fee, which 10 was not disclosed to Plaintiff at the beginning of the purchase process, and therefore,
11 is unlawful pursuant to California Business and Professions Code section 22502.2.

12 36. On behalf of herself and members of the Class and Subclass, Plaintiff 13 seeks to enjoin the unlawful acts and practices described herein, and to recover two 14 times the contracted price of the ticket and reasonable attorney’s fees. Cal. Bus. &
15 Prof. Code § 22502.3.

16 COUNT II
17 California Civil Code § 1770
18 (On Behalf Of The Class)

19 37. Plaintiff repeats the allegations contained in the foregoing paragraphs as 20 if fully set forth herein.

21 38. Plaintiff brings this claim individually and on behalf of the members of 22 the Class against Defendant.

23 39. Plaintiff purchased two admission tickets from Defendant’s website,
24 owns and operates SeaWorld in San Diego, California, as well as the website,
25 <https://seaworld.com/san-diego/>, in or around October 7, 2023, and paid fees that 26 were not disclosed until the final checkout page.

27 40. Defendant violated California Civil Code § 1770(a)(9) by “[a]dvertising 28 goods ... with intent not to sell them as advertised” on the product selection screens

1 depicted in Figures 2-7 of this Complaint. Specifically, Defendant advertised and 2 expressly represented the price of admission tickets with intent not to sell them at the 3 advertised price.

4 41. By quoting consumers that “Taxes & fees” were charged, when, in fact,
5 no taxes were charged at all, Defendant also violated California Civil Code §
6 1770(a)(14) by “Representing that a transaction ... involves ... obligations that it 7 does not have or involve.”

8 42. As a result, Plaintiff and Class Members were harmed because they 9 were misled into paying Defendant’s unlawfully applied fees.

10 43. Plaintiff and Class Members were also harmed by not having the total 11 cost of their admission tickets disclosed upfront at the start of the purchase process.
12 By not knowing the total cost of their admission tickets before selecting them for 13 purchase from Defendant, Plaintiff and Class Members could not readily shop
14 around for tickets to other aquariums like the Birch Aquarium, Sea Life Aquarium, 15 or the many other aquatic encounter experiences in California. As such, Plaintiff and 16 Class Members had no way of knowing whether they were getting the best deal their 17 money could buy. By hiding its processing charges, Defendant was able to reduce 18 price competition and cause consumers like Plaintiff and Class Members to overpay.

19 44. Plaintiff and Class Members relied on Defendant’s false and misleading 20 representations of the advertised cost of the tickets in choosing to purchase their 21 tickets.

22 45. As detailed in the body of this Complaint, Defendant has made 23 representations regarding the price of the tickets on its website which are false due to 24 the uniform imposition of the Fees described herein. Indeed, Defendant concealed 25 the true price of the tickets, and the true amount of the Fees it was charging on each 26 purchase, from Plaintiff and Class Members.

27 46. No reasonable consumer would expect the “Checkout” button to reveal 28 an unlawful fee in addition to lawful sales tax and shipping costs. See Figures 2-7;

1 see also Watson v. Crumbl LLC, 736 F. Supp. 3d 827, 845-46 (E.D. Cal. 2024)
2 (“Plaintiffs have sufficiently alleged [Defendant] advertises one price for its products
3 while also surreptitiously charging a higher price by adding the Service Fee. Thus,
4 Plaintiffs have sufficiently alleged [Defendant] advertises their goods with the intent
5 not to sell them as advertised.”).

6 47. Defendant, which operates a website selling admission tickets to 7 SeaWorld, does not provide services that would lead reasonable consumers to expect
8 the imposition of the Fees. It is unclear what, if any, “administrative and processing 9 costs” customers accessing the website to purchase tickets would expect to pay for,
10 and Defendant does not disclose the Fees anywhere before customers reach the 11 screen depicted in Figures 5 and 7 of this Complaint.

12 48. Defendant willfully employed a scheme designed to advertise a price 13 that is not the true cost of the tickets, and did so willfully, wantonly, and with 14 reckless disregard for the truth.

15 49. On November 20, 2025, Plaintiff sent a demand letter to take corrective 16 action. See Cal. Civ. Code § 1782. Defendant did not take such action.

17 50. On behalf of herself and members of the Class, Plaintiff seeks to enjoin 18 the unlawful acts and practices described herein, to recover her actual damages, and 19 reasonable attorneys’ fees. See Cal. Civ. Code § 1780.

20 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

21 WHEREFORE, Plaintiff seeks a judgment against Defendant, on behalf of 22 herself and all others similarly situated, as follows:
